

The best of 2020: Some stories are too good to be seen just once

New office on high floor of a NYC office building by Kostow Greenwood Architects

TIGER 21 (The Investment Group for Enhanced Results in the 21st Century) provides members with a close-knit network to discuss topics that matter most

Spain's new GSS Security office interiors designed by Alex March Studio

Metal, vegetation and wood are key elements in the new offices in Mataró, Barcelona

News: an inspirational snapshot of outstanding global designs

Zooco Estudio serve up Pan de Cuco on the plates of Santander

Located in Spain's Cantabrian, the restaurant celebrates modern cuisine in a rural setting

The Inglewood Courtyard Residence: Mark Odom Studio's Texas project

The 2,400 sq ft home was designed around an entry sequence and circulation pathway that focuses on the courtyard and natural light

In case you missed it: highlighting the most popular stories from last week

Prague's smart home with artificial intelligence by Coll Coll

The functional house integrates technologies into one autonomous system with artificial intelligence, allowing the connection of hard construction technologies, soft non-structured data and the ever-changing context of the web

Architect and appliance companies unite over New Zealand project

Studio2 Architects collaborate with Fisher & Paykel to complete a contemporary beach house in New Zealand